

Voting process proposals for Memorial Commission

Throughout February, the Ministry for Housing, Communities and Local Government (MHCLG) will be seeking views from members of the bereaved, survivors and the Lancaster West Estate on its proposals for voting for community representatives for the Memorial Commission.

The government recognises how important this will be to people and wants to make sure the process for setting up the Commission is inclusive and driven by members of the community. It's important that this is a transparent and fair process.

The Memorial Commission will be made up of 10 community representatives, including the bereaved, survivors and residents of the Lancaster West Estate and it will develop a proposal for the long-term future use of the site, including the shape and size of a future memorial – which will be subject to the normal planning rules.

MHCLG will be consulting on its proposals until the end of February before voting begins at the beginning of March 2019. Please look out for letters and leaflets about the Memorial Commission over the coming weeks.

If you would like further information about the Memorial Commission please contact:

GTMCSecretariat@communities.gov.uk or on 0303 444 4381.

New North Ken News to launch

Residents in North Kensington should be on the look-out for their copy of the new North Ken News at the end of this month.

The Council is launching the brand new publication in response to feedback from residents and will be delivering copies to households in North Kensington every month.

As part of the Stronger Communities conversations last year, we heard that residents want to receive more information about what was happening in the area.

We have been working with local community groups and organisations to hunt out the best content to keep you up to date with local people, places and activities.

This means that next week will be the last edition of Grenfell Support News. However, you'll still be able to access all back copies of the newsletter on the RBKC website at www.rbkc.gov.uk.

We will be working with the bereaved and survivors to develop a dedicated newsletter for them to ensure they continue to receive all the information they need.

We will not be updating the Grenfell Support website after the end of February. All the relevant content will be moved across to a dedicated Grenfell recovery section on the Council's website. You will also notice a few changes to our social media feeds, but we will continue to update you about any Grenfell-related news on these feeds.

We will provide you with links to the new Grenfell recovery section on the Council's website next week.

KAA recognised in Evening Standard awards

Kensington Aldridge Academy (KAA) has been acclaimed at the Evening Standard School Awards, winning the award for outstanding achievement in challenging circumstances.

The awards were set up to recognise London state schools that have either accomplished excellent exam results or that have achieved outstanding success against the odds.

Following this, on

Wednesday 13

February HRH The Prince of Wales visited the school to celebrate its achievements and hear first-hand about the experiences of staff and pupils.

The Prince saw some of the lessons and watched a special performance from some of the school's most talented pupils.

The Council offers its congratulations to the school for this well-deserved award.

Support following Grenfell on Channel 4

On Monday evening, Channel 4's Dispatches will look at the London Fire Brigade's response to the Grenfell Tower tragedy. This programme will feature footage filmed on the night of the tragedy and may be distressing to those who live locally to the Tower. The Central and North West London NHS are on hand to provide support for anyone who feels distressed or upset by the programme or for any other reason.

Give the NHS Grenfell Outreach Team a call if you need to talk to someone on 020 8962 4393. In an emergency, always call 999.

Learn how to cook healthy and delicious food

If you want to improve your diet and cook healthier, more nutritious meals, drop in to the free healthy eating class at The Venture Centre, 103a Wornington Road, W10 5YB every Wednesday from 12.30pm to 2pm. You will receive advice on how to eat healthily on a modest budget and be able to share recipes with like-minded neighbours who are also looking to take control of their diet.

The sessions are offered from WAND UK and are open to all ages. Lunch is available in the centre for £1.50 per person. For more information, call 020 8960 3234.

Take your job hunt to the next level

Find a job that works for you at the Hospitality Works 2019 Job Fair. Whether you're looking for flexible working hours, entry level or beyond, there's a variety of employers offering a range of positions.

The fair will take place on Wednesday 27 February from 12 noon to 3.30pm in The Great Hall of Kensington and Chelsea Town Hall, Hornton Street, W8 7NX.

Employers who will be there include hotels such as The Royal Lancaster, The Landmark and the Hyatt Group. There will also be companies from the food industry, including Wagamama, Zizzi and Whole Foods.

A job fair is the perfect way to maximise your chances of finding an employer that suits you, as well as showcasing yourself to a range of possible employers under one roof.

Register today on Eventbrite to secure your place bit.ly/2SRIFy5
